Congressman Opposes Revision of Tariff Law

IT IS UNNECESSARY AND MAY BE DANGEROUS.

United States Enjoying Era of Prosperity Such as Has Never Been Known Before.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 21.—Congressman Dalzell today gave a statement embodying his views on the tariff. He said:

"I am not in favor of tariff revision at this time. In my judgment, it is unnecessary and to attempt it would be unwise and impolitic. It is unnecessary. We are, as is universally conceded, enjoying a prosperity such as neither we nor any other people have heretofore known. Our home market is the greatest in the world. Our foreign market has been increasing steadily year by year under the operation of our present law. We can safely go to the country under the present law. It would be dangerous to do so under a new and untried one. I do not believe that there is any substantial demand outside of the Democratic and Mugwump press and theorists for tariff revision at this time. This I say deliberately after a journey across the continent clear to the Pacific coast. Everywhere I heard expressed the hope that there would be no interference with the tariff."

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF MINNEAPOLIS MAN KNOWN AS PLUNGER

MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 21.—John Butler, of Minneapolis, a man well known as a plunger, on the Chicago and Minneapolis boards of trade, the maker and loser of several fortunes, died suddenly in this city tonight. Something of mystery surrounds his death. He arrived on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at 7 o'clock from Wells, and owing to his condition was taken to the city hospital and a physician summoned. He was quiet and soon fell asleep and did not again awake, death occurring about 8:30.

Butler was formerly a member of the Chicago and Minneapolis boards of trade and at one time was very wealthy. He has been associated with Cuddey, the pack packer, and President Ives of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. He resided at Ellsworth, Minnesota, for a number of years and owned most of that town.

ALICE ROOSEVELT AND HER PARTY WERE THE EMPRESS' GUESTS.

SEOUL, Sept. 21.—Miss Alice Roosevelt and the women of her party attended a women's luncheon at the palace today. Omi, the emperor's consort, who was the hostess, proposed a toast to Miss Roosevelt. The luncheon was unique for the reason that it was the first time in the history of the country that the women of the palace had entertained foreigners. Mrs. Bunkers and Mrs. Underwood, missionaries, acted as interpreters.

American Minister Morgan and British Minister Jordan gave a reception this afternoon in honor of Miss Roosevelt, to whom were presented the members of the Korean cabinet, the diplomatic corps, General Masagawa, commander of the Japanese troops in Korea and his staff, leading Korean officials and prominent foreign residents.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 21.—At today's session of the National Association of Life Underwriters a threatened split over the adoption of a resolution presented by Delegate J. P. Raleigh of St. Louis, denouncing misconduct in insurance circles, was averted and a compromise resolution was adopted. The resolution recommends full publicity in relation to all insurance operations. C. W. Seaver of Pittsburgh was elected vice-president. The next annual convention will be held at St. Louis.

THREE LINK MEN SELECTED TORONTO FOR NEXT YEAR'S MEETING.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows today decided to meet next year in Toronto. The question of separating the patriarchs militant from the sovereign lodge was referred to the committee on state of the order. The questions of the proposed affiliation with the Manchester Unity of England and the erection of a sanitarium were laid over until tomorrow.

BEEF PACKERS FINED $25,000

PENALTY FOR CONSPIRING TO OBTAIN REBATES.

Defendants Pleaded Guilty In Pursuance of Arrangements That They Escape Jail.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Four officials of the Schwartzchild and Sulzberger Packing company were fined an aggregate of $25,000 by Judge Humphrey in the United States District court here today. The fines followed a plea of guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to accept railroad rebates. The defendants were Samuel Weil of New York, vice president of the company; B. S. Cusey, traffic manager; Vance D. Skipforth, and C. E. Todd, assistant traffic manager. Weil was fined $10,000; the other three $5,000 each.

With the entering of the pleas the declaration was made that unless at least one of the cases is immediately settled, Weil's life is in jeopardy. He is said to be a nervous wreck and fears for his life. He had been in the hospital and a physician summoned. He was quiet and soon fell asleep and did not again awake, death occurring about 8:30.

Butler was formerly a member of the Chicago and Minneapolis boards of trade and at one time was very wealthy. CUSTOMS PUZZLE ABOUT ZINC ORES

SECRETARY SHAW CALLED UPON TO DECIDE IT.

Zinc Mine Owners Want Duty Imposed As Needed Protection to the Industry.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—A hearing was given by Secretary Shaw at the treasury department today on the customs questions of zinc ores in general and also zinc ore containing a percentage of lead. There were two questions at issue. The tariff law provides that minerals, crude or not, advanced in value, not specially provided for, shall be admitted free of duty. It also provides that metallic mineral substances in a crude state shall pay a duty of 23 per cent. There is a dispute as to the class in which zinc ore belongs.

The other question is whether lead-bearing zinc ore, which by law is dutiable according to the lead contained therein, includes all ores containing lead, even though the lead is so small a percentage as merely to exist chemically and not as a commercial product.

The zinc mine owners of the Middle West were represented by a delegation from Joplin, Mo., who argued in favor of a duty on zinc ore as a needed protection to the mine owners. The other side of the controversy was presented by representatives of the New Jersey Zinc company and the Prime Western Smelter company. It was decided to submit the legal questions to the attorney general for his opinion.

DETECTIVES AGAIN TELL OF THE TRAP

Proceedings in Emmons Trial Are a Rehash

HENRY HARTLING TOLD WHAT HE DID AND SAW.

There is a Possibility That the Affairs of the Continental May Be Gone Into.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—Today's session of the trial of E. J. Emmons, charged with accepting a bribe, while a member of the senate, was the least interesting since the day devoted to the selection of the jury. The crowd in the courtroom dwindled away as the day progressed without unusual incident, and the heat made the afternoon fatiguing to all concerned.

One important witness for the prosecution was disposed of during the day. This was Henry Hartling, one of the detectives who swore that he watched the transaction in marked bills. E. J. Emmons, agent of the Continental, who participated in the shadow work, had submitted to an hour of cross examination when court adjourned and will not require a great deal more time.

It is expected that Gavin McNab, whose absence today was explained by the Democratic convention in San Francisco, will be called to the witness stand tomorrow morning, and that the cross examination which commenced today's proceedings will be resumed.

It is stated that a summons has been served by the defense upon J. Lou Martin, sergeant-at-arms of the state senate, and that he will be asked to tell all he knows about the assignment of the committee to its quarters on Tenth street.

W. J. Palethrope, the expert who examined the books of the Continental Building and Loan Association some months ago, has been summoned by the defense. He was asked how long it would require to investigate the affairs of the company if, as is stated, Johnson decides to do so when William Corbin and his books appear in answer to subpoena already issued. Palethrope said the subject was so complicated that it would require eight experts three months to investigate fully the affairs of the association.

Until Grove L. Johnson had proceeded with the trial, the morning session of the trial was devoted to a rather dull repetition of testimony twice given before a public tribunal.

Hartling told of his employment by Tichenor in San Francisco; of his trip to Sacramento; of his instructions to watch Johnson and the suspected senators; and his standing on the corner of Eighth and K streets when Johnson, as is alleged, handed a roll of bills to Emmons.

Under cross-examination Hartling detailed his employment and residence since his birth and among other things denied that he had registered or voted in Alameda county in 1888. Johnson did not bring out the application of the question nor pursue it further.

He testified in answer to questions that his health and his eyesight were good in January, 1905, but that he had worn glasses for a year prior to that time. He said he had purchased the glasses without medical or optical examination of his eyes. He admitted that he could not see in the dark as well as in daylight, particularly at a distance of fifty or sixty feet.

Hartling could not state what time the sun went down on the evening of January 24th, but he knew that it was somewhat foggy and that a light rain or mist was falling. He affirmed that neither he nor Johnson carried umbrellas and expressed a belief that Emmons did not. Upon this Johnson asked:

"I call attention to the fact and ask you if the defendant did not carry an umbrella upon that occasion and if he did not open it as he and Johnson passed you?"

"I did not see it," replied the witness. Hartling testified that he had been operating as a private detective, attached to no agency for ten years preceding January 1905.

Hartling enumerated several cases in which he had been engaged, leading off with the murder of "Little Pete" in San Francisco's Chinatown. The line of inquiry however was dropped by Johnson without apparent result.

Witness stated that he was standing at the southeast corner of Eighth and K, close to the building, when the transaction occurred. He said Emmons was facing in his direction, to the westward, about sixty feet away. He admitted that he had testified on a former occasion that it was thirty or forty feet but had since stepped it off.

Hartling said he did not see anyone in the immediate vicinity of Emmons and Johnson at the time referred to.

"Is it not a fact that the cigar store on K street is well patronized and that there might have been people who did not see?"

"It is possible," was the reply. "Are you positive you saw the bills passed?"

"Yes." "You know there is a difference in the color of paper money?"

"Yes, sir." "Could you distinguish at that distance its color?"

"No. I could only tell it was paper money. I mean that it looked like paper money. It may have been other paper of the same shape and color."

"Then, being at a distance of sixty feet, with the larger of two men observing the other, and a misty, foggy night, with the sun gone down, you saw something pass your thought was paper money, did you not?"

"I did. But I had a diagonal view of the men who were standing on the edge of the sidewalk."

Just before the noon recess Johnson asked:

"Before the senate committee you testified that you were sure you had not made a note of the time Emmons was paid and now you say you did make such a note. Which is true and how do you account for your answers?"

Several answers were declared unresponsive before the witness said:

"I don't believe I did. I referred on the first occasion to a note made of the time they left Hanlon's saloon."

At this point the noon recess was ordered.

Hartling resumed in the afternoon and testified that he had resided in Kern county for over three years under his own name and in the employ of the Morse Detective Agency. Then Johnson made one of his sudden shifts of attack and extracted an admission that Hartling, during the noon recess, had talked over his testimony with the district attorney and Tichenor. He added that he had read his testimony given before the senate committee and at the Bunkers trial, since he was summoned as a witness, but merely to refresh his memory.

Hartling testified that he had not known Johnson's name prior to seeing him enter the house at 1107 Seventh street. In reply to questions he continued that Johnson took the bills to Emmons with his right hand. The bills were loose and not folded. I could not say whether there was one or more, Johnson held them with the end showing above his hand.

Johnson, with a strip of paper, the size of a bank note, asked the witness to show him how Johnson held the bills and asked the reporter to mark the paper at the point where it showed above the hand. Then Johnson asked: "You are a detective and do you think any man in this state has enough nerve to bribe a man openly with bills in his hand on the street in that manner?"

An objection to this was sustained.

Witness stated that he could not remember what hand Emmons extended to take the bills and Johnson asked: "You don't know what hand he took it with?"

"You don't know what he did with it?"

"No."

"Then how do you know he took it?"

"It disappeared from Johnson's hand."

"Jordan might have placed it in his own pocket, might he not?"

"No."

"How do you know he did not?"

"Because Emmons reached out for it."

"With what hand?"

"I don't remember."

"How did he reach for it?"

"Jordan had the bills in his hand and Emmons took them. I do not remember with which hand."

"Can you remember if Emmons was not holding an umbrella with his left hand?"

"No."

Hartling then testified that the men were standing a foot or two apart. He was unable to say whether either man was smoking; did not think Johnson wore an overcoat but was sure Emmons wore one. He said Jordan had taken the bills from the right hand pocket, either of his trousers or his vest. Witness was not sure which.

William N. Russell of Oakland, an employee of the Continental Association, was on the stand long enough to tell of his receipt of an envelope in the Mills building of having delivered it to Tichenor at Sacramento; and of having seen Tichenor extract therefrom a hundred dollar bill. On cross-examination Russell said he had been sent to the Mills building by William Corbin and had reported to him on his return.

George N. Tichenor was the next witness called. He identified the envelopes and told of the memoranda he had made and then of the precautions he had taken to identify them. He told of his meeting with Jordan and of the arrangements made for delivering the money to the four senators. Subsequently he narrated how the money was delivered to Jordan and how the latter had joined Emmons in Hanlon's saloon, walked across the street and paid the money to Emmons while witness was watching the transaction. He stated in conclusion that he had watched the proceedings for the purpose of entrapping the senators.

On cross-examination, Tichenor testified that he had been employed by the Continental Association since July, 1904, and that this was the company of which William Corbin is secretary. Johnson asked him if Corbin did not have the power to discharge him and Tichenor said he did not believe Corbin could do so without the order of the board of directors. Johnson persisted, asking for a direct reply and Tichenor, who seemed to be somewhat reticent, said:

"I suppose he could discharge me if he found that I was guilty of forgery or had committed some other crime."

In response to the question of Johnson, Tichenor gave a brief sketch of his career. He said he had been employed by the Continental since July, 1904; that he had been previous to that assistant superintendent of the Pinkerton Detective Agency; before that a conductor on the Pullman company's cars; before that in the Rock Island office. Prior to that the witness had speculated in mining stock and lived in Oakland, where he came from Tucson, Arizona, after being in the ice and soda business for ten years.

Tichenor testified that the Continental had paid his expenses incurred in the prosecution of the Emmons case. He admitted having engaged operators of Curtin Detective Agency for seven or eight days after Emmons had accepted the bribe. He said the operators reported to the agency and the reports were sent to the Continental in his name.

Tichenor denied having sent any detectives to Bakersfield during this month or last and likewise denied knowledge of a detective named Taylor who was said by Johnson to have followed Emmons from Bakersfield to this city.

At this point adjournment until tomorrow morning was taken.

At the opening of the morning session Fred L. Carey, a deputy in the office of Secretary of State Curry, was recalled to prove Emmons' membership in the last legislature and to further prove Emmons' appointment as a member of the committee on retrenchments of the senate.

ASPHALT COMPANY AIDED REVOLUTION

The Venezuelan Government Seems to Prove Its Case

MONEY WAS GIVEN TO BUY WAR VESSEL.

Starting Testimony Given In New York Which Makes Castro's Actions Justifiable.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The disposition of $100,000, which the government of Venezuela alleges was paid by the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company to General Matos to buy a steamship in Europe with which to prosecute a revolution against the Venezuelan government, was inquired into today during the taking of testimony in the case of the Venezuelan government against the asphalt company. This was the second session devoted to securing depositions in New York for use in a suit against the Bermudez company which was charged with assisting General Matos by contributions of money.

Thomas H. Thomas, president of the asphalt company in 1901, said that in November, 1901, $100,000 was paid to a New York law firm. Asked whether it was charged on the books of the asphalt company to an account known as "The government account," he replied, "It possibly was."

The counsel for the Venezuelan government said his country intended to prove this money went to the purchase of a revolutionary steamship.

Thomas also said an expense item of $100,000 which was characterized in the report of the asphalt company as being necessary, was probably intended for the purpose of maintaining armed guards on the company's property.

L. A. Kuhn was in the employ of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company at the time of the revolution and said that he had seen the revolutionists given both money and food by his company.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Dan Patch, paced by two runners, W. H. Hursey, went a mile in 2:01 today at the Albany fair. An hour later Dan Patch, hitched to a road wagon, cut the pacing record of his sire, Joe Patchen, from 2:11 1/2 to 2:05. The time of 2:01 made Dan Patch beat the world's pacing record for half a mile track.

Grove L. Johnson, principal counsel for the defense, objected strenuously to the introduction of any evidence tending to show that Emmons was elected a member of the upper branch of the legislature. Johnson objected particularly to the introduction of the certificate of the county clerk of Kern, showing that Emmons received a majority of votes cast in that county for senator from the Thirty-second district, but Judge Hart overruled the objection.

Johnson asked Carey if he had examined the archives in the office of the secretary of state showing the election of senators from other districts. Carey said he had, and at Johnson's suggestion produced the certificates of election in certain of the even numbered districts in which the election of 1902 was held. Emmons being a hold-over senator.

It came out that some county clerks had failed to make return of the election of senators in their districts, but Judge Hart held that this failure did not invalidate the law.

When Carey left the stand Emmons' membership of and in the last legislature had been established.

NEW YORK TOUGH KILLED IN RIOT

PROSTRATE POLICEMAN SHOT HIM AFTER WARNING.

East Side Gang Defied Police Control and the Riot Was the Result.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—One man was killed, a policeman seriously injured and two other persons shot in an East Side riot tonight. The fighting followed the effort of the police to clear away a crowd of men and women who had become disorderly in front of a restaurant in Lower Second avenue. There have been numerous complaints from the neighborhood that remnants of several of the gangs are constantly broken up on the East Side and been meeting at the restaurant and becoming unruly. The police of the precincts were instructed by their captain tonight to rid the vicinity of the vicious characters.

The appearance of Policeman Walter J. Miller on the scene was the signal for trouble. One woman in the crowd jeered at him and when the men were told to move on they refused to do so. Miller arrested a man named Jack Kella and was immediately set upon by the fellow's companions. Miller was hit heavily over the head with a club and felled to the ground, still retaining his hold on Kella. The prostrate policeman was kicked and beaten but finally managed to draw his pistol and, after shouting a warning, fired twice. One bullet struck Kella between the shoulders and he fell dead. The second bullet passed through the leg of Max Felderbaum and then entered the foot of Florence Smith, a 10-year-old girl.

Following the shooting, policemen came running from many quarters and reserves from two precincts had to be summoned before quiet could be restored. Several arrests were made. At the hospital where Policeman Miller was taken it was said he may have a fractured skull.

The European Exhibit Building

Can't you visit Europe?

Then you should go to Portland to see this building and its unique European exhibits. The building is 40x200 feet in size and cost $51,720.

From the center rises a huge square tower, the floor of which contains a roof-garden commanding a magnificent view of the Exposition grounds.

Exhibits from the principal countries of Europe are in this building and a visit there is a good illustration of what you would see if you were to visit Europe.

BASEBALL GAMES IN THREE OF THE LEAGUES.

George G. Well Known Local Horse. Won First Heat in Grand Circuit Meet.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21.—A bad error by Bennett of Seattle and a scratch hit by Tacoma in the ninth inning today tied the score. In the tenth three more hits scored two more runs and the Tigers won out. Vickers struck out thirteen Tacomaites, but was touched up for eight hits. Score: R. H. E. Seattle.....2 9 3 Tacoma.....4 8 0 Batteries—Vickers and Blankenship; Brown, Emerson and Graham.

At San Francisco.—Superior stick work by Oakland was responsible for Portland's defeat today. The batting of the victors was spasmodic but the hits came in groups in three innings. Iburg pitched a strong game. Score: R. H. E. Portland.....5 2 2 Oakland.....8 13 1 Batteries—Gavin and McCann; Iburg and Byrnes. Umpire—Perrine.

At Los Angeles.—Los Angeles defeated San Francisco again today by slightly superior batting. Toman made both of the errors credited to the home team in the fifth inning. Both pitchers were wild, Gray giving seven bases on balls and Wheeler six. Bernard secured a home run in the third inning with two men on bases, when he hit the ball into left field, where it bounded into the bleachers. Score: R. H. E. Los Angeles.....6 8 2 San Francisco.....5 6 0 Batteries—Gray and Eager; Wheeler and Wilson. Umpire—Davis.

American League. At Philadelphia.—In the eighth inning with the score tied, Monte Cross doubled and scored the winning run on a sacrifice and an out. Attendance 7000. Score: R. H. E. Cleveland.....1 6 1 Philadelphia.....2 4 2 Batteries—Joss and Wakefield; Plank and Powers.

At New York.—Chicago won both games today. Timely batting won the double victory for Chicago, and long hitting was a feature in both contests. Attendance 6000. Score: R. H. E. Chicago.....3 9 0 New York.....2 5 0 Batteries—White and Sullivan; Chesbro and Kleinow. Second game: R. H. E. Chicago.....2 9 0 New York.....2 7 2 Batteries—Smith and McFarland; Orth and Kleinow.

At Washington.—Detroit easily defeated Washington in the opening game here today. Mullin and Kison were puzzles to the local batsmen, while Hughes was hit hard. Attendance 1300. Score: R. H. E. Washington.....1 6 4 Detroit.....5 11 2 Batteries—Hughes and Heydon; Mullin, Kison and Warner.

At Boston.—St. Louis won a poorly contested game today. Boston's hits were bunched better, but the visitors made theirs in conjunction with the misplays of the locals. Attendance 3400. Score: R. H. E. St. Louis.....3 7 5 Boston.....3 7 4 Batteries—Buchanan and Spencer; Gibson and Armbruster.

At Pittsburgh.—Pittinger's good pitching defeated Pittsburgh in the first game and the case with which Brady was found in the second reversed the result. Attendance 5000. Score: R. H. E. Pittsburgh.....3 4 3 Philadelphia.....8 12 2 Batteries—Phillips, Flaherty and Feitz, Pittinger and Dooin. Second game: R. H. E. Pittsburgh.....6 12 0 Philadelphia.....1 4 3 Batteries—Lynch and Gibson; Brady and Munson.

WONDERFUL GEORGE G. PERFORMANCE AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 21.—What is said to be the best time record that the grand circuit has ever known was made at the Columbus track today when sixteen heats were trotted and paced to an average of 2:07 1/2. Wentworth's victory in the 2:06 trot was the sensation. George G. took the first heat and led past the half in the second. There he broke and Wentworth nipped out Dr. Strong, the favorite. Wentworth took a record of 2:04 1/2 when he won this heat. The time is the fastest of the year and equals the trotting record of last season. Time by quarters: .31, 1:01 1/2, 1:32, 2:04 1/2. Albert C. stood fifth in the summary at the end of the fifth heat of the 2:15 trot, carrying over from Wednesday and was declared the winner.

PROFESSIONAL GOLFERS' OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

HAMILTON, Mass., Sept. 21.—With scores of 156 each, Stewart Gardner and Alec Smith, the professionals at the neighboring Long Island club of Garden City, and X. X. X. led the field of more than three-score players at Myopia club today in the first of the two days' play of the open championship of the United States. Arthur Smith, of Columbus, Ohio, the American champion; Alex Campbell of Brooklyn and Gilbert Nichols of Denver, were tied with 158.

ANOTHER WRECK ON THE SANTA FE

EASTBOUND LIMITED DERAILED AT WALTON, KANSAS.

Five Cars Left the Track and Several Passengers and Employes Were Hurt.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 21.—Five cars on the California Limited train No. 4, eastbound on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, were derailed at Walton, Kansas, a small station west of Newton, last night. Several persons were injured but it is believed that only one, Fred Kempnick of Chicago, second cook in the diner, who was badly scalded, was seriously hurt. He may die. No one was killed.

Among the injured are the following: Fred Kempnick, Chicago, second cook, probably fatal. Grant Conrad, Los Angeles, member of board of public works, slight. John Callendar, Los Angeles, slight. Elsie Lawrence Havlin, vaudeville actress, slight.

Christine Weiss of Chicago, a trained nurse, face lacerated, hole in cheek, severe confusion of forehead; condition serious. Jacob Havill of New York, theatrical manager, leg cut and bruised. The train was made up of a composite car, a diner and five sleepers. All but the last two sleepers left the track. None of the cars was badly damaged. The train was running at thirty-five miles an hour. The injured were started for Topeka and the wrecked train was made up and sent East after several hours' delay. The cause of the wreck has not yet been determined.

FORGOTTEN ARMY UNDER RUSSIAN FLAG IN NORTHERN KOREA.

ONGA, North Korea, near Gaskewich Bay, with the Russian Korean Army, Wednesday Sept. 20.—We hear that an armistice has been arranged in Manchuria, but nothing definite is known here. This army, with good reason, is called the "forgotten army." Letters come seldom and no supplies are arriving here there being no roads. This army lives on the country using the property of the inhabitants. There are no war correspondents here. Heavy rains have resulted in much sickness, but there are no medicines, no hospitals and no Red Cross. It is reported that this army will be withdrawn from the Tumen district, which is in the neutral zone.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS MAY SPLIT IN TWO ON PRESIDENT ISSUE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—In the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association today a motion to have President Cunningham retain his office for one year longer was carried by a large majority. As a result it is possible that about ten states unfriendly to the project will drop out of the association and start another association. It is stated that a committee has already been appointed by those who are opposed to Cunningham to draw up a constitution for the proposed new body.

SANTA FE SURVEYORS BELIEVED AT WORK FROM EUREKA NORTH.

PORTLAND, Sept. 21.—The Evening Telegram says: Private advices to the Telegram from Tillamook and vicinity confirm the details of the coming of the Santa Fe surveyors into Oregon, for it is no longer doubted that the engineers who have been in the coast district for some time past are Santa Fe men and that their work has progressed far enough to show the grades that must be reckoned with in building the line north from Eureka, Cal.

MILLIONAIRE DAVIS' CONTESTED CODICIL IN SUPERIOR COURT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—The contest to the alleged codicil of the will of the deceased Millionaire Samuel Davis, who died April 5, 1904, at the age of 78 years, leaving a fortune appraised at over $1,000,000, was begun today in the Superior court. The main question to be decided is the authenticity of a codicil found some time after the discovery of the will.

Carnegie's Offer to Smith College. NORTHPORT, Mass., Sept. 21.—When Smith college was opened today, President L. Clark Seelye announced that Andrew Carnegie had promised $125,000 to the college providing friends of the institution will raise an equal amount. The money is to be used for the erection and maintenance of a new biological laboratory.

PRESIDENT AND THE HAGUE CALL

HE WAS ASKED BY THE CZAR TO GIVE WAY.

And Gracefully Yielded the Honor to the Promoter of the First Conference.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 21.—Secretary of State Root, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, and Joseph H. Choate, who spent last night at Sagamore Hill as guests of President Roosevelt, left for New York this morning. The conference between the president and his visitors was admittedly important. The principal topic of discussion was the recent disclosures in the investigation of the conduct of life insurance companies of New York, now being made by a committee of the New York legislature. The president has in course of preparation his annual message to congress and as he proposes to discuss the insurance situation in that message with reference to federal legislation for the regulation of insurance, he desired to confer with his close friends as to the manner in which he should treat the subject.

The conference last night continued until a late hour. No details are obtainable. It is known, however, that the president has been urged strongly to recommend to the congress the enactment of such legislation as will give the federal government supervisory control of insurance companies.

It is learned that the most important international question considered at the conference was that relating to the second peace conference to be held at The Hague.

The president explained to his visitors that on September 13 Ambassador Rosen visited him at Sagamore Hill to inform him of the desire of Emperor Nicholas of Russia to call a peace conference at The Hague which should be supplemental in its work to that held at The Hague three years ago on the emperor's initiative. The president last autumn took the initial step toward the calling of the second conference, addressing through Secretary of State John Hay a call to the powers. The powers, including Japan, acquiesced in the proposition of the president, but Russia, while accepting it in principle, objected to holding the conference while she was waging a war with one of the signatory powers. She indicated that at a later time, perhaps on the conclusion of peace between herself and Japan, she would hold the second conference at The Hague would be agreeable to her.

The visit of Ambassador Rosen was made with a view not only of presenting to the president formally the desire of Emperor Nicholas, but also with a view of ascertaining whether President Roosevelt would be quite willing to waive any claim he might have on the calling of the conference because of the steps he took last year, so that Emperor Nicholas himself might issue the call. The president expressed himself as delighted to yield to the wish of the Russian emperor, and Ambassador Rosen has informed the emperor informally of the president's acquiescence. A formal reply to the emperor will be sent to him by the president through Secretary Root. The reply was discussed last night but it has not been put into definite form.

Theorizing About Mikasa Loss.

TOKIO, Sept. 21.—Regarding the loss of the battleship Mikasa in Sagami harbor, strong doubt is entertained that it was caused by a fire which started at the base of the mainmast. It is believed by some that it must have been due to an explosion from the outside, followed by the greater explosion of the magazine. Otherwise the disaster is declared to be impossible of explanation.

Sleepy

Do you ever sit down to read in the evening and find yourself going to sleep before you have read a dozen lines? Do you have that experience almost every time you try to read?

There are a great many who are troubled in this way. In a good many cases it is due to some slight defect of the eyes, not enough to cause pain or blurring vision but just enough to tire the muscles and make you drowsy.

If you have these symptoms we will be very glad to make an examination of your eyes and tell you if glasses will give the trouble. We do not charge for such an examination and a fair price only for the glasses if you need them.

We are sure you can get no more competent optical service in this valley. Drop in and talk the matter over with us sometime.

STRANGE CASE OF GEO. W. PERKINS

JEKYLL AND HYDE DUALITY OF THE FINANCIER

As Vice President of New York Life He Sold Bonds to Himself for Morgan.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—George W. Perkins, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance company and a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was on the witness stand before the special legislative committee probing insurance companies' methods during the greater part of today's session. When an adjournment was taken he was still on the stand with a number of questions pending to reply to, about which he asked permission to look up the records and submit transcriptions. There was nothing of a sensational character in the testimony today, the only development of moment being the disclosure of the transaction with the New Orleans Traction syndicate, in which the company sustained a loss of over $300,000.

Edmund V. Randolph, treasurer of the company, had been questioned rather sharply regarding this transaction when he was on the stand last week. Today the matter was brought up again when Counsel Hughes attempted to probe the collateral loan account. The bonds of the New Orleans Traction company had been bought from the New York Security and Trust company at $5 and were subsequently sold at 75. Perkins testified that they were sold on December 31, 1903, to Fausch & Co. for $97,500. Hughes found under date of January 5, 1905, a loan of that amount to Fausch & Co. and asked whether the loan was made against these bonds. This Perkins said he would have to look up and the question was dropped for the present.

It was brought out that John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, was carrying a running loan with the New York Life of $500,000 at 1 1/2 per cent interest.

Perkins did not know whether this matter came before the finance committee, and would also look that up. Witness could not explain why, after the New York Life had bought $4,000,000 worth of bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co., $2,000,000 worth should be sold back to that firm at the same price within two months, and no minute of the finance committee could be found to explain it.

The transaction in Navigation Syndicate bonds of December 31, 1903, when Perkins, for the New York Life, sold to Perkins, for J. P. Morgan & Co., $800,000 in these bonds, came up again, the warrant for the check of $800,268 was produced. These bonds were bought back by the New York Life two days later, and the $800, Perkins testified, was for the adjustment of interest. Perkins would not acknowledge the transaction was a loan.

The total dealings of the company with the Morgan firm amounted to $39,289,075, with a profit of $784,793.10. The matter of the company's income was for the present dropped, and the way of spending the money was probed. The agency system of the company was described and at this time Vice President Thomas A. Buckner, who was in charge of the agents, was called. He stated that the total salaries of the agency inspectors were $126,000 annually. Agency directors get an average annual salary of $5000. The latter receive about $100,000 annually in bonuses.

Buckner was unable to answer many questions without referring to records and will be called again.

Earlier in the day Perkins had been questioned on the "joint account" transactions of the New York Life, which he was unable to explain last Friday. He occupied almost the entire morning session and presented statements of each account. Perkins took occasion to correct his testimony of last Friday relative to the navigation bonds when he was asked if the object of the transaction between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the New York Life Insurance company was to remove the $800,000 bonds from the insurance company's books and reduce their holdings temporarily from $4,000,000 to $3,200,000. Perkins answered yes, but today said: "I did not mean that; I meant to say 'No'."

Before Perkins took the stand, John F. McCullagh of Albany, a clerk for Andrew H. Hamilton, was called in an attempt to probe further into the $100,000 check matter, but McCullagh could give no information and was excused. The investigation will be resumed tomorrow.

Before the day's proceedings were begun Charles B. Hughes, counsel to the committee, said he believed that facts of more importance and greater interest than any thus far developed would be brought out.

"We have not yet reached the meat of this inquiry," said Hughes. "In fact, we have only started it."

GAMBLING GAMES AGAIN SHUT DOWN IN BAKERSFIELD.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 21.—For the second time in the history of this city, all gambling was stopped tonight by the action of Sheriff John W. Kelly. The sheriff served notice on proprietors of so-called "clubs," dance halls and saloons that if gambling of any description should be found running tonight arrests would follow. For the last month the sheriff has been working toward closing down gambling but his action today came as a complete surprise. He states that he has collected abundant evidence and intends to test the matter as to whether gambling halls can be legally run under the guise of "clubs" and "social" clubs. The gambling saloons were reopened after the last municipal election, when by an action of the new board of city trustees, dance halls were allowed to reopen. There was no gambling in the city tonight for the first time in several months.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS FROM CHOLERA PORT WERE OBT TRANSFERRED

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Having been passengers on three different steamers to which they were successively transferred, 1902 persons arrived here today in the steamer of the steamship Grut Waldersee. The passengers were the first party of immigrants to be subjected to the cholera quarantine regulations which were recently applied to steerage passengers leaving Hamburg, and the enforcement of these precautions caused the numerous transfers. They embarked originally at Hamburg on the steamer Moltke, but disembarked at Cuxhaven, where they went aboard the steamer Bulgaria and were detained on that ship eight days. Finally the Bulgaria transferred them to the Grut Waldersee.

Noyes, Chicago Record-Herald; first vice president, General Charles H. Taylor, Boston Globe; second vice president, Rufus N. Rhoades, Birmingham Post-Herald; elected in place of S. H. C. Adams of the Augusta, Ga., Herald; secretary and general manager, Melville E. Stone, assistant secretary, Charles S. Diehl, executive committee, F. B. Noyes, Charles W. Knapp, Victor F. Lawson, Charles H. Grasty and Adolph S. Ochs.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA HAVE NOW CONCLUDED A NAVAL ARMISTICE

TOKIO, Sept. 21, 6 p. m.—The navy department announces the conclusion of the naval armistice on September 15 last. Rear Admiral Joesen, representing Russia, and Vice Admiral Kanamura, Japan's representative, the narrowest portion of the Strait of Tartary is to remain a neutral sea. Russia requested permission to send provisions to Kamchatka, which will be icebound in two weeks, and Kanamura willingly granted a pass for a steamer to be used for this purpose.

CHAIRMAN TAGGART MAY BE A WITNESS BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the national Democratic committee, left Indianapolis last night for New York. He would not discuss the nature of his business but some of his friends are inclined to believe that he has been summoned to testify before the legislative committee which is investigating the insurance concerns in New York relative to the alleged contributions to the national Democratic campaign fund.

COMPANY IS IN BAD CONDITION

ASSESSMENT INSURANCE HAS ITS FAULTS TOO

Western Indemnity Life Is to Be Investigated by Illinois State Superintendent.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—An investigation of the business methods of the Western Indemnity Life, an assessment insurance association, for which an application for a receivership has been made by policy holders, is to be made by the state superintendent of insurance. Attorney General William H. Stead of Illinois, has already begun an investigation of the affairs of the insurance company and officials, and in the course of a few days the state superintendent of insurance will summon all the officials of the company before him and compel them to answer questions concerning charges of fraudulent voting of contracts, illegal voting of proxies and an attempt to transfer the entire company to another corporation.

This information was announced in open court this afternoon by Attorney Walter Hawk, counsel for a claimant of an unpaid benefit of $4000, while an attempt was being made to secure an order from Judge Holmes of the United States District court for a reference to a master in chancery of the matters in controversy in the suit against the company and its officials. The affairs of the Western Indemnity Life are said to be in a deplorable condition and according to Attorney Hawk the state superintendent of insurance will make a strict investigation so that the persons responsible for the trouble can be punished.

During the hearing before Judge Bethea various questions of law and fact were argued by a number of prominent lawyers, citing why the whole matter should be referred to a master in chancery. In the judge declared that he did not wish to enter into the case, inasmuch as Judge Kohlman, of the United States Circuit court is to take up the case next Tuesday, when the question of whether a preliminary injunction shall issue, preventing the transfer of the Western Indemnity Life to another company, will be decided by the court.

CAPTAIN MCLEAN MUST BE ARRESTED BY NAVAL OFFICERS

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 21.—Captain Alex McLean, whose arrest is sought by the United States department of justice through the United States consul at Victoria, B. C., Smith, on a charge of conspiracy in fitting out the sealing schooner "Larned" at San Francisco in violation of the sealing laws, has not yet been arrested. Premier McBride this evening informed Consul Smith that his government could not act in the matter and that such action should be taken by the imperial naval officers at Esquimaut. All the vessels being absent from the Esquimaut station nothing was done. The consul notified the Washington government to this effect. The cruiser Shearwater arrived at Comox this afternoon from Bering Sea and is due at Esquimaut tomorrow. The consul will then apply to the commander of the British vessel to seize the "Larned" and arrest McLean.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE BY KNIFE AND FIRE OF SUSPECTED MAN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—George Finkelshtein, a former lodging house keeper of this city, tried to end his life today in a horrible manner. Finkelshtein had been accused by the police of permitting illegal voters to register from his establishment and been driven out of business. He brooded over his misfortune and sought death by knife and fire. He was found in his room in a lodging house with his throat and wrists cut and his head lying in a fire that he had made of a pile of newspapers. Physicians say he cannot recover.

Card of Thanks.

THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN

Fresno Republican Publishing Co.
WESTER H. ROWELL, Editor and Manager

DOES IT PAY?

Senator Platt of New York is traveling in California for his health, and incidentally, with the assistance of the woman he did marry, dodging the bailiffs of the woman he did not marry. Senator Platt is an old man, nearing the close of a long and remarkable career, and recently it occurred to me to look back and take stock, to see if it was all worth while. He concluded that it was not. "The game of politics," he said, "is a losing one. If I had it to do over again, I would do it differently." Which, incidentally, he probably wouldn't. The final wisdom of experience generally comes too late to be used, and in the meantime men follow their natural bent. But that final wisdom is at least instructive to others, especially when it takes the form of expert testimony that the things most men sell their lives for are not worth the price.

Senator Platt has attained every selfish goal of life. He has made business, political and personal success. He is at the head of a great express company, he is senator from the greatest state in the Union, and he is the most powerful political boss in higher American politics. He has wealth, position and power, all practically unlimited. He has dispensed the patronage of presidents and guided the course of states and parties. Everything that wealth, power and success can give to a man, he has had, and, barring youth and health, still has. And yet, having gained all, he feels that he has gained nothing. What is lacking?

Only one thing, Senator Platt has received much, but has given nothing. He has controlled the political power of a state, and he has used it for himself, not for the state. He has had money and business power, and has bought things for himself with them. He has bought rank, honor, and friends, and has found out how worthless is the purchasable variety of these things. He has learned, in fact, the old lesson that the only assets that count, in summing up life, are the records of service rather than of acquisition.

This is an eminent example, but count up the petty local examples you can recall, and see how little it is worth while. Not to lift aside too pitilessly the merciful veil of oblivion, how many human wrecks do you know, the foundation of whose wreckage was laid in political success? Who ever managed a triangle, a quadrangle or a machine in his own interest, and succeeded permanently in serving that interest? How many, instead, died of debauchery or live on in obscurity and disgrace? The list is too long and too cruel to think on.

Politics, played for the benefit of the politician, is veritably a "losing game." It offers no consolation in defeat and no gain without making in victory. Political dishonesty leads straight to disgrace, even when it manages to avoid the penitentiary. But even political selfishness, short of the limit of corruption or dishonesty, fails of its reward. Nobody has any business in politics unless for the public good. Even he will get little private good from it, and will not find that it personally pays him. But he will find it worth while, nevertheless, and not a "losing game."

A MUDDLED JUDGE.

Judge Dayton, of the United States court sitting in Wheeling, West Virginia, has until recently been in congress, and he ought to be there yet. At least, he seems not yet to have comprehended that he is now in a judicial, not a legislative office. In a recent Chinese case, under the exclusion act, he decided the case in favor of the Chinese, not on the ground that he was within his rights under the law, but that, in Judge Dayton's opinion, the law is wrong. He voted for it himself, in congress, where he would have had a perfect right to vote against it, but he is ashamed of that vote now, so he proposes on the bench, where he has no right to consider the policy of the law, to stretch every point against the enforcement of the law of which he disapproves. Perhaps the fact that he now holds a life position, whereas formerly he was dependent on the people for re-election, has something to do with his new-found courage of his honest convictions now. But a belated legislative conscience, elevated to the bench, is ill occupied exercising legislative functions on the bench.

Judge Dayton's argument is that the Chinese exclusion act was merely ill advised truckling to California prejudice, and is inconsistent with our course in admitting freely the least fit of the hordes of Southern and Eastern Europe to our citizenship. This latter policy is of course open to criticism, but it has nothing to do with the case. We have been admitting hordes of unfit white men from time immemorial, and have found them, generation by generation, turn out very well. We admitted for a time importations of negroes, very fit indeed for the place they were to fill, and we imported with them a problem that will remain to plague us until the judgment day. There is no problem of white immigration that can not be brilliantly solved, if only the immigrants, or their children, can be raised to the level of our average native citizenship. The negro problem would have only just entered on its most difficult stage, if the negroes generally should rise to that level. The exceptional white immigrant, of high education, character and capacity, is no problem at all. The negro of this sort is the most puzzling part of the race problem. In spite of the economic service of the negro to the South, and his present economic usefulness, the South would a thousand times rather, if it could, turn back the dial of history and substitute the least efficient and most unreliable white labor in the world. It might not have "paid," business might have suffered and progress might have been delayed—but there would have been no race problem. All other problems can be met. Some of them are hard and some of them are easy, but a race problem is the only one that is impossible.

We do not want such a race problem. Better the fierce tribes who are now murdering each other in the Caucasus, better the most stupid of Russian peasants, better white laborers who are drunken, unreliable and dishonest, than the best Chinese in the world, admirable men personally and useful men in business as these Chinese might be. It is because free Chinese immigration would give us another race problem, that we must have laws preventing it in advance. There is no cure for such a problem afterward.

STAND PAT.

Congressman John Dalzell, chief of the "standpatners" has issued a statement to the effect that after a careful enquiry of public sentiment, extending over the whole country, no revision of the tariff is needed or desirable. The country is prosperous and the people are satisfied. Nobody is demanding a change except Democrats and Mugwumps, and "we can safely go to the country under the present law."

The argument is good so far as it goes and so long as it lasts. The people do not want the tariff changed, and it is safer politics not to change it. Any existing tariff, under which the country is prosperous, is better than a better tariff that would involve changing business conditions. As a matter of practical administration, tariffs ought not to be tinkered with merely on a showing that they are capable of improvement. Stability, on any tolerable basis, is so much preferable to change, even to a better basis, that nothing but intolerable badness will justify the rash attempt to make a tariff better. But this is exactly what is liable to happen. Mere inequalities in a tariff are not intolerable, but failure to produce revenue is. Already there are periodic deficits, only covered by the accumulated surplus. If not this year or next, then certainly some time our tariff will have to face conditions so different from that under which it was framed that it will fail to meet them. Even then the people may not want a change. Even then it may be safer to "go to the country" on the unchanged law. Even then, industrial prosperity may continue, though governmental bankruptcy impends. But when that time comes, as it may come very soon, the tariff must be changed, regardless of the political effect on the party making the change. And then will come the test of statesmanship and courage.

EX-MINISTER CONGER REGRETS OUR FAILURE TO BUILD CHINA ROAD.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 21.—In an address before the Grant Club tonight, former Minister to China, Edwin H. Conger said that in the failure of Americans to build the Chinese railway, faith had been broken with China and American good standing with Chinese seriously impaired.

"We made a very serious mistake when we permitted our railroad concession in China to be relinquished," said Conger. "It will prove a sad blow to our future efforts to establish advantageous business relations with that country. It will take us back many years. It is vastly more harmful to this nation than the boycott, concerning which so much has been said and written."

LOOPER OF LOOP AND DEATH DIPPER MET WITH ACCIDENTS.

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Sept. 21.—Two performers, doing almost identical feats, were probably fatally injured tonight within a few minutes of each other during the carnival and street fair. The ropes holding the net placed to catch Madame Demonia, who loops the loop in a ball, broke, precipitating the woman to the ground, a distance of ten feet. Hardly had the woman been removed to a hospital when Henry Russell, in attempting to loop the loop and trap a gap, fell from his bicycle while crossing the gap and landed on his head.

WANT RECEIVER TO TAKE CHARGE OF SHERRICK SECURITIES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—Attorney General W. Miller, of Indiana, filed a petition today in the Marion county circuit court asking for the appointment of a temporary receiver to take charge of the securities surrendered to the state by David E. Sherrick. The petition will be heard by Judge Allen tomorrow. Governor Hanley spent an hour today in the room of the Marion county judge investigating the Sherrick case.

Let Chinese Cook Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Captain William Meyers, of the steamer Leelanaw, today pleaded guilty, in Judge De Haven's court to having permitted the escape of a Chinese cook. Captain Meyers expected a fine of $100, but was fined $500.

Trades and Labor Congress.

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—The trades and labor congress in session here today adopted a resolution condemning the policy of Joseph Chamberlain. Many delegates opposed its passage. The open shop was condemned.

Coal Men Oppose Regulation.

ELFAAL, Sept. 21.—The national council of the Retail Coal Association and the National Anthracite Merchants' Association, in joint meeting here today, voted to oppose the Esch-Townsend bill.

From Valley Papers

Notwithstanding all the talk about race suicide, almost every report of a school opening in California has noted the exchange of late has a heading in which is incorporated somewhere, "Greatly Increased Attendance."—Tulare Register.

The Sacramento Bee makes note of the fact that it is about this time when shipments of the Almeria grape from Spain to New York begin, and asks why the Almeria should not be grown in California, in order that this state may get the benefit of a Thanksgiving and Christmas market. After reading the Bee's editorial The Register became interested, and the writer called upon Mr. Forrer, foreman of the government experiment station located near Tulare. It was learned there that the Almeria is among the numerous varieties growing at the station, and that even on that soil it is doing remarkably well. As the Bee suggests, cold storage will probably suffice to keep the grapes in good order long enough to catch the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets. At any rate, it has been demonstrated at the Tulare station that the Almeria will grow and produce as well as in California as any other grape, and that means that it will do better than anywhere else in the world. It would be well for some of the vineyardists in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys to give it a confidential test.—Tulare Register.

Olive oil is being smuggled into the country from Italy disguised as machine oil. And a lot of cotton seed oil from the Southern states is being sent into California labelled olive oil.—Madera Tribune.

The Exponent believes the supervisors should have made the road tax 35 cents at least as the Kings river canyon road will use up a 5 cent tax. Everybody is crying for more roads and better ones and the only way to get them is to put on the tax.—Reedley Exponent.

Ventura county produced 600,000 sacks of beans last season, and has a heavy yield in sight for the present year. It is a notable fact that the agricultural districts that are the most prosperous are those that have ceased to depend on wheat.—Stockton Record.

All towns have their trials and family rows, and Fresno has one now over the location of a septic tank. The proposition contemplates building a septic tank in the West Park district, and the people there are up and remonstrating, declaring that the septic tank will ruin their homes if built there. The city authorities declare they have investigated the Hanford septic tank plant and that it is not a nuisance. The building of public utilities anywhere always meets with opposition from those who own property and who are in a city is as essential as the food supply, and must be built, but there will always be kickers against every public movement. Guess it is all right—it keeps the public pulse beating.—Hanford Sentinel.

The pioneer beet sugar factory in this valley will be at Visalia, the work on which is now progressing rapidly, and it will be turning out sugar within a year from this date. It is the intention of the company to have the plant completed by the first of next July and it will engage largely in the culture of sugar beets itself, as it has been thoroughly demonstrated that this is a sugar beet country. The yield of that vegetable here to the acre is enormous and the percentage of saccharine matter in it is highly satisfactory. In a city where the wheels begin to turn in our local sugar factory, the occasion should be made a gala day in this city as it will be a long step forward in the development of an industry in this country which will add much in bringing its permanent prosperity.—Visalia Times.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY APPROACHING A BASIS OF MUTUAL AGREEMENT.

KARSTAD, Sept. 21.—The Swedish and Norwegian commissioners met in joint conference this evening after the holding of separate conferences during the day. The joint conference lasted nearly four hours and was then adjourned until tomorrow.

It is understood the Swedish demands that transit trade through both countries shall be secured against unjustifiable obstruction and for the right of pasturing regular belonging to Swedish Laplanders in North Norway, have been amicably settled, but that the question of the demarcation of the fortifications still remain open. Several Norwegian newspapers are opposing an offer of the throne to Prince Charles of Denmark. They demand that the people of Norway be given an opportunity to express their choice between a monarchy and a Republic.

Collins Case at Ottawa.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 21.—A special from Ottawa says that the minister of justice yesterday received from Justice Hunter the reports, with all the papers and evidence, in the Collins extradition case. It was at once placed in the hands of the department for report.

GET IN THE CIRCLE!

COMMITTEE CALLED TO CONSIDER CHANGE OF INAUGURAL DATE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—District Commissioner McFarland, chairman of the national commission to consider the advisability of changing the date of the ceremony for the inauguration of the president of the United States, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee on November 21st. The committee is composed of the governors of all the states and territories and fifteen residents of the District of Columbia. Among the dates suggested for the ceremony are April 30th, and the last Thursday in April. The change is urged by reason of inclement weather that usually prevails in Washington on March 4th.

SPAIN TAKES TURN IN A DEMONSTRATION AGAINST MOROCCO.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Sept. 21.—In consequence of the recent attack by Moors on a Spanish journalist and the refusal of the cabinet to give satisfaction therefor, the ministry of Marine has ordered the ship of war Infanta Isabella to proceed to Ceuta, a Spanish fort and seaport on a small peninsula in the north of Morocco. A cruiser, a gunboat and torpedo boat destroyer are being held in case the demand of the Spanish government is not complied with.

Congregational Church Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—The forty-ninth annual meeting of the general association of the Congregational church of California at the First Congregational church today was notable for the rally of the American Board, the Rev. John R. Thurston, D. D., presiding.

CIGARETTE CASES FOR BRIDES.

Smoking Among Women on the In-Crease in England.

Cigarette smoking among women has been greatly on the increase during recent years. A bride recently received no fewer than seven cigarette cases among her wedding presents. On making inquiries among several well-known jewelers it was found that this may have happened to more than one bride. During the past wedding season, said a member of a prominent firm, "we sold fully fifty ladies' cigarette cases as wedding presents. Gold or silver, with the owner's name in precious stones, is the favorite pattern."

A few years ago, said a well-known tobacconist, "gentlemen used to come in and buy some particularly mild cigarettes which we specially manufactured for ladies. Ladies were far too bashful to come and purchase them themselves. Nowadays ladies have not any scruples in the matter. They just come in themselves and buy the cigarettes. Moreover, we no longer manufacture a special brand for them. They prefer those which the men smoke. Several ladies have a standing order with me for 200 a week."—London Truth.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—Sergius Witte, after luncheon with President Loubet at the Chateau, Mazarin, the president's country home, returned to Paris today. Premier Rouvier will give a luncheon in his honor at the foreign office tomorrow. Witte has abandoned his visit to Brussels and will leave Paris Saturday or Sunday for Berlin, where he will remain two days on the invitation of Emperor William. He expects to reach St. Petersburg, September 28th. Professor DeMartens has left Paris. He will travel direct to St. Petersburg.

ANOTHER DELAY IN GIVING JUDGMENT IN TAGGART DIVORCE CASE
WOOSTER, O., Sept. 21.—Judge Eason announced today that he would not be able to give his decision in the Taggart divorce case until Saturday, September 30. He had previously said that it would be forthcoming on September 23, but he has not had time to go over the evidence and a postponement of one week was found necessary. Mrs. Taggart, who is still in Wooster, has been ill for several days and is threatened with fever, but it is now expected that she will be out in a few days.

Germany, France and Morocco.
PARIS, Sept. 21.—Representatives of Germany and France today resumed negotiations on the situation regarding Morocco. Later, Dr. Rosen, the German envoy, had a conference with Premier Rouvier, with whom he went over the points in dispute. It is semi-officially announced, that the points relate to the policing of Morocco and to Moroccan finances, on which an agreement may shortly be expected.

A HEALTH OFFENSE

SICK COW SOLD FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION.
City Bacteriologist Hely Runs Down Flagrant Violation of Pure Food Law.

City Bacteriologist Hely yesterday afternoon ran down what appears to be a flagrant violation of the pure food law. The offender is Bob Bagdasar of 530 I street, and the offense is the butchering of a sick cow.

The matter was first brought to the attention of Sanitary Inspector Machen, who "reported on" to Hely. The latter engaged an automobile and taking Dr. Free and Machen along as witnesses began an investigation.

He found that P. V. Dalitlan, living on Kearney avenue owned the cow. The cow had recently given birth to a calf and was sick. Dalitlan, the veterinarian, was called. He found that the cow had a high fever and condemned her.

The sterilizer man heard of the condemned cow and went after the carcass. There was neither cow nor carcass, however, and he learned that the condemned animal had been sold to Bagdasar.

When questioned, Dalitlan, the owner, admitted that the sick cow, which he understood that Bagdasar intended to make bologna sausage of the meat. While his action was morally reprehensible, it seems he is not criminally liable under the pure food law. It is only the man who retails impure meat. The law specifically says that no animal shall be slaughtered within ten days of parturition.

The city bacteriologist swore to a complaint against Bagdasar and he will be arrested today.

DWELLINGS FOR JAP WOMEN.
As Soon as Prepared Bad to be Separated From Good.

The Japanese women who lead disreputable lives have not yet moved from among the respectable Japanese. Women are rapidly closing their dwellings on the Union property leased by A. J. Conard and it is evident that an influx into those dwellings is fully expected by the proprietor. In fact, it is the common report in the district that as soon as Conard's property is in shape to be occupied the work of moving the Jap women will be hurried to completion.

At present conditions across the track are exactly as they were before Mayor Lyon and the Japanese Reform committee took warrants in hand and haled the twenty-nine fallen brown women to the police court. All the brick houses in which these women have lived for many months past are occupied, as is the building recently completed in the center of the half block bounded by China alley, Tulare, P and Kern streets, across the street from the twenty-nine women came. Moral Jap town is not yet free from immoral Jap town, but there is no change in the attitude of the mayor or the Reform committee and it will be only a matter of a few days before the separation is ordered.

There will be no further molestation of the eleven women taken Tuesday night from the dwelling rooms behind the old Trilly gardens; for it has come about that that part of immoral Jap town moved away from that part of immoral Jap town. The women were arrested because there was a family living in their midst. In the family was a number of small children and some large enough to be contaminated by the baleful presence of their immoral countrywomen. The promoters of the evil trade in that portion of the block persuaded the family to "move" the street where the women's dwellings will be considered moral. Thus, the eleven women are no longer considered as liable to prosecution under the policy announced by the mayor.

THE FRATERNITIES.
Doings in the Various Lodge Rooms Last Night.

Acacia Circle, Women of Woodcraft, met last night, with a good attendance and considerable business was brought before the lodge. Two applications were received and Miss Della R. Wallace and Mrs. Sarah E. Ball were initiated into the mysteries of woodcraft. A membership campaign was started last night and the lodge was divided into two sides. Mrs. Hansen was elected captain of "A" side and Mrs. Whiss elected captain of "B" side.

At the close of the year the side that lands the most number of applicants has to fund the expense of a banquet for the lodge, and also furnish the evening's entertainment. All members are requested to be present at the meeting next Thursday night as several things of importance will be brought up. The lodge is preparing for a series of socials to be given this winter, the dates of which will be announced later.

After business was over refreshments were served and the balance of the evening spent in games.

Foresters of America.
The Foresters of America met last night and considerable business was acted upon. Seven applications for membership were received. The lodge is arranging for a dance in the near future. The membership was very large last night as nearly all the members have returned from their vacations.

Independent Foresters.
The Independent Order of Foresters assembled last night, as usual with a very good attendance. Two applications for membership were received and acted upon.

Ancient Order of Foresters.
The Ancient Order of Foresters met last night with a good attendance. Five applications were received and acted upon and two applicants were instructed in the mysterious workings of the order. A dance is being planned for the future.

EMPEROR WILL SIGN THE TREATY OF PEACE ON EARLY DAY.
ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 21.—The emperor is expected back at Peterhof from his vacation trip tomorrow. Count Lamsdorff will take the peace treaty in its final form to him for his signature. It is impossible to learn when this will be done, but no especial delay is foreseen. It was said here today that consideration of the ratification would be sent to Japan from Russia through France and vice versa through the United States. Subsequent to this exchange each country will send a treaty to each other.

EARTHQUAKE SUFFERERS HAVE ADDED HORRORS OF DISEASE EPIDEMICS.

ROME, Sept. 21.—The autumn rains have begun in Calabria, the scene of the recent earthquake, adding new miseries to the already long list caused by typhoid, malaria, hunger and cold. The fields which until now have been used as camping grounds by the earthquake sufferers are rendered perfect death traps by the rains, causing fever and pneumonia. The suffering all over Calabria is intense.

Civilian Physicians Unsatisfactory.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The work of civilian physicians in examining recruits of the army has proved so unsatisfactory that their service will be entirely dispensed with in that capacity after September 30th next.

Gave a Relinquishing Performance at the Barton Hotel.

"Go and laugh with May Irwin and forget your troubles." That this advice was followed was evidenced by the splendid audience assembled at the Barton last night to see May Irwin in her latest and best New York success, "Mrs. Black is Back." There was not a dragg moment in the whole performance and of course the clever comedienne was the centre of attraction, although her company is far above the average and in foot-ball limbo, did good team.

During the time Miss Irwin has been away from the stage she lost none of her charm and magnetism. It is the same laughing eyes and broad smile that attract one—and, yes, other things broad, too—but that is all May Irwin and detracts not one whit from her fascinations.

Naturalness in manner and speech characterized her performance to such an extent that one almost imagined the lines were "made up" as she went along. Even lines of less merit would be entertaining if given by Miss Irwin, but by some good fortune George V. Hobart hit upon just the proper sort of sparkling wit that gives the opportunity of seeing her in her happiest vein.

Some one has called the comedy a "logical farce" and whether logical or not it is certainly a remarkable concoction of absurdities and exaggerations.

The curtain rose on a picturesque garden scene at the home of Professor and Mrs. Black on the Hudson river, near New York. The difficulties of the Black household begin with Mrs. Black's fib to her husband about her age and the age of her son, Jack, Dangerfield.

There are small fibs in the father of a host of others; and thus the plot thickens and it becomes less difficult for Miss Black to deceive than to undeceive. Of course, it all turns out well and Jack is confessed to be over seventeen years old instead of a small lad of ten for whom doting friends had been providing various childish toys.

The troubles with the cook were exaggerated, for the story of that individual enacted by May Donohue was immense. Her demands for a room with a southern exposure and the subsequent objection because of the exposure was one of the hits of the play. Of the supporting company John E. Hazzard as Larry McManus, Jack Dangerfield's valet deserves particular mention. His work with Miss Irwin furnished an excellent bit of comedy. Jane Burby looked the part of Emily Mason, Mrs. Black's sister, and was a most attractive young woman.

One extra entertainment was provided in the rendering of a number of new songs of the rag time brand written especially for Miss Irwin. In the choruses she was ably assisted by her company and the effect was delightful. Especially taking was the opening musical number, "The Time Another Year You May Be Gone," the other being "Melinda," "Don't Argue," "Muddy Mississippi," and the closing number, "Filipino Dance," written by Miss Irwin. She enters into the music with a zest very inspiring to see. Altogether she is a jolly good fellow without a suggestion of indecency and the audience left nothing escape in the way of enthusiastic appreciation and applause.

The funeral of the late F. G. Waterman was postponed yesterday awaiting the arrival of a son from the East. The funeral service will be at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence, four miles east of Fresno. The interment will be at Mountain View cemetery under the auspices of the Masonic Fraternity.

PRICES CURRENT.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—In the wheat pit at the opening December was up $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ at $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. The advance was largely due to a sharp rise in prices at Liverpool, ostensibly the result of reports to the effect that Russia's face to face with the worst famine which the czar's country has ever experienced. Indications of existing conditions in cereals from Moscow to a considerable extent have been claimed that 40 per cent of the wheat exported from Russia this year has been re-exported to the Baltic ports. The market here was further strengthened by higher prices at Minneapolis, following a decided movement in that section. A leading bulk also was reported as having bought considerable wheat, the greater portion of which was for May delivery. As a result the December option advanced in sympathy to 85½¢.

Strength of cash wheat at all grain centers tended to encourage the purchase of futures. During the last hour the market lost part of the strength that had developed, December selling off to 84½¢. A report that the Spanish government had reimposed a duty on imports of wheat was partly responsible for the reaction. The market, however, closed quite firm with December at 84½¢.

A fine tone prevailed in the corn market. December opened unchanged at $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher at 45½¢ to 45½¢, sold up to 45½¢, and closed at 45½¢. The market for oats was strong and active. December opened $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ higher at 29¢ to 29½¢, sold between 28½¢ and 29¢ and closed at 28½¢.

Provisions were steady. At the close January pork was up $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢; lard was a shade higher, and ribs were up 5¢.

Dried Fruit Prices.—Evaporated apples show no change. Prime fruit for December delivery is still held at 7½¢; for November 7½¢, quotations: Common to good 4½¢ to 5¢; prime 7½¢; choice 7½¢; fancy 8¢.

Prunes in fair demand with quotations ranging from 4½¢ to 7½¢, according to grade.

Apples are arriving slowly and with no pressure to sell prices are firmly held. Choice 8½¢; extra choice 9½¢; fancy 9½¢ to 10¢.

It is reported that small lots of extra choice peaches can now be secured from stores around 10¢; fancy 11½¢ to 12¢.

Raisins are unchanged. Some demand for loose muscatels is reported from eastern seeders, but offerings are very light.

Loose muscatels 5½¢, seeded raisins 7½¢ to 8½¢, and London layers 11¢ to 11½¢.

San Francisco Grain.—Wheat steady; December $1.34½.

Barley steady, December $1.07½. Corn, large yellow, $1.37½ to $1.42½. Bran, $20.00 to $21.50.

JEWELER'S WARES COOLLY FILCHED BY AN UNKNOWN THIEF.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—F. H. McConnell, a jeweler at 14 Post street, this morning, as usual, sent his clerk to the safe deposit vaults where he deposited his valuables over night. When the clerk returned with a bag containing about $10,000 worth of watches and jewelry it was placed under the counter. A few minutes later the clerk was discovered by McConnell occupying part of the real estate office of Hooker and Lott. He lives in Berkeley and his assistant, J. A. Leonard, has for ten years past brought the box from the safe deposit vaults and placed it under the counter, where it remained until McConnell arranged the goods in the window. Leonard, who is an elderly man, left the room for a short time this morning and during his absence a collector for the real estate firm who was in the place says that a well-dressed stranger entered and asked for a renting list. He looked at the list but did not take it and soon walked out. When Leonard returned the box with its valuable contents was gone.

VICTIMS OF FAMINE IN STRICKEN ANDALUSIA HEAD FOR AMERICA.

MADRID, Sept. 21.—Dispatches from the famine districts of Andalusia say that entire trains of emigrants are leaving to embark for South America. Many families are abandoning their homes and farms. Some villages in California have been totally deserted through despair of recovering the promised relief. The steamship companies announce that fifteen steamers loaded with emigrants will leave Andalusian ports in October. The press is urging the government to adopt energetic measures against wholesale emigration to America.

Sugar Beet Mass Meeting

Of vital importance to the farmers of Fresno county will be the public mass meeting to be held at Armory hall, Thursday, Sept. 28th, at 2 p. m., when the sugar beet question is to be discussed. You are urged to attend this meeting.

Fall Millinery Opening

Fall Millinery Opening

The well-dressed women of Fresno long ago learned to depend upon this store for their millinery. Every step of our millinery success has been marked by originality. We have never been content to follow in the footsteps of others. We refused to accept the old time idea of millinery beauty and high prices. We linked the beauty to economy of price and built up the largest millinery business in Central California. We make it possible to secure elegant hats at a reasonable cost. We will vividly illustrate it—Monday opening day.

Big Values in Small Type

New cheriot shirts; 28 inch goods; yard 10c
New cotton hats; pure white; fall half pound 7c
New deans; 30 inch; Plymouth mills; 25c fabrics; used for draperies or couch covers; special, yard 15c
36 inch kimono flannels; all new; fleeced back; Persian figures or dots and stripes; yard 15c
27 inch tennis flannels; fleeced backs; light or medium colors; yard 7c
58 inch bleached table damask; floral patterns; good heavy grade; worth 35c a yard; special for 25c
Good size Turkish towels; cream color; firm grade; soft and absorbent; extra special, each 5c
$1.25 best apron; double twisted cotton yarn; Marseilles pattern; all ready to use; special for 97c

Extra Shoe Values

Boys' stout school shoes; sizes to 5 1/2, for $1.50
Misses' fine kid school shoes; sizes to number 2 $1.25

Elastic Cotton Felt Mattresses $10

They would regularly cost you $15 everywhere else in the United States. We've just a few left and we want to sell them all out. That's the reason of the big reduction. These mattresses are famous the world over for their comfortableness and restfulness. You'll find they're made of the choicest materials by the latest improved felt machinery and are warranted never to lump or separate. If you're in need of a fine mattress, this is your opportunity to buy. See the window display.

CHAIRMAN TAGGART DENIES STATEMENT OF PRESIDENT McCALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—T. H. Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee, arrived in New York tonight from Indianapolis. He denied the statement made by President McCall of the New York Life before the legislative investigating committee on Wednesday that the Democratic national committee had solicited money for the campaign fund from that concern. "No member of the national committee nor any agent of the committee ever asked Mr. McCall of the New York Life for a dollar," he said. Taggart added: "Neither the Democratic national committee nor any authorized representative of the committee ever asked a dollar's subscription from any other insurance company."

He said he did not come to New York to testify before the insurance investigating committee.

SCHOONER RAMMED STEAMER AT SEA

STOVE GREAT HOLE IN SIDE OF PASSENGER BOAT.

That General Loss of Life Was Not occasioned Is Most Surprising Fact.

BOSTON, Sept. 21.—The injury of six passengers and two of the ship's officers by the collision at sea was reported by the steamer Junata of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company, bound from Boston for Baltimore and Norfolk, which returned to this port this afternoon badly damaged. The Junata was rammed last night thirty miles off Chatham by the five-masted schooner Harwood Palmer, bound from Baltimore for Portland, Me., with a cargo of coal.

The injured: Mr. and Mrs. Friedell, Pittsburg, Pa.; badly bruised; J. W. Johnson, North Abington, Mass., leg broken, injured internally; serious; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murray, South Boston, bruised and badly shaken up; Corporal J. J. Mattingly, United States marine corps, hands cut; Captain Z. Nickerson of the Junata, injury to hands; Quartermaster John Crockett, hands cut and bruised.

FIVE WERE KILLED IN RAILROAD SMASH ON PENNSYLVANIA ROAD.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Five men were killed and eight others seriously injured in a collision between a pay train and a combination passenger and milk train on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh branch of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad at Reu's curve, at Mount Holly Springs, this afternoon. None of the passengers were injured.

COLOR OF A SHIRT

ONE WITNESS IN MURDER TRIAL SAYS WHITE, OTHER BLACK.

Taylor Defends, Opens Up With Good Witnesses in Tremper-Kandarian New Witness.

The difference between a white shirt and a black shirt when that shirt is on the back of a man just previous to the time that he killed a man under certain circumstances may be considerable. Yesterday in the progress of the trial of David F. Taylor, Paul Kandarian, an Armenian, declared that he saw Taylor and Jacob Bederosian, the murdered man, talking on the bank of the ditch about two hours before the killing of Bederosian, and at that time Taylor threatened Bederosian, saying, "If you put that board in again I'll come back and fix you." This was a very strong piece of testimony against Taylor, for it fixed his intent. Kandarian said Taylor wore a white shirt, positively white. One of the first witnesses for the defense was Chris W. Tremper. Tremper declared that he saw Taylor a short time after the time Kandarian says he heard the remark and Taylor wore a black shirt, positively with a few very narrow white stripes. The question that Attorneys Burns and Klette will ask him is this, "If Kandarian cannot tell black from white, are you going to believe he heard the compromising remark attributed to him by Kandarian?"

The murder trial, which up until yesterday afternoon, was almost devoid of interest took a sudden brace of interest yesterday when Kandarian was called to the stand. Still greater attractiveness was induced when Chris W. Tremper took the stand. Tremper's testimony was strong for Taylor. The prosecution finished its case and Tremper was the first witness for the defense.

What He Heard. The reason the calling of Paul Kandarian to the stand was conducive to interest was that he was a reserve force of the prosecution, though the prosecution did not expect his testimony at the time of the preliminary examination. Kandarian said that he was called to Bederosian's house to see about some work. The night before Bederosian was killed he remained all night at the house. The next morning he started home and Bederosian walked as far as the head gate at which he was killed two hours later. Bederosian met a man at the head gate who looked like Taylor. Kandarian stopped at the road not far away to fix the tools on his bicycle.

The man talking to Bederosian asked who got the water in the ditch. Bederosian said that he did and immediately Kandarian says Taylor pulled a board from the water and said to Bederosian, "You put that board in again I'll come back and fix you."

The man who said these threatening words wore a white hat and a white shirt. These statements were positive. Kandarian then went to his home south of Selma. He was told of the murder of Bederosian by Phillips, a grocery driver. He did not tell the driver of the remark he had heard Taylor make.

He did not tell anyone but his brother. He had no conversation concerning his knowledge of the affair except with his brother and did not know what he was expected to testify. This looked fishy to Attorney Burns and he questioned Kandarian very closely.

Damaging Testimony. John Noren, a native of Sweden, told of a short talk he had with Taylor as he was on his way on the ditch toward where he afterward shot Bederosian. Taylor said that if he did not get water there would be trouble.

"What did Taylor say as he started away?" asked Deputy District Attorney Kauke.

"He said, 'I am going to see my Armenian,'" said Noren.

"Did you see Taylor's pistol?" "I saw it in his pocket as he jumped on his wheel to ride away."

Morning Witnesses. During the morning and early afternoon sessions the prosecution had Deputy Sheriff W. S. McSwain, Arthur Sanders, Paul Aronian, Paul Crist, George Crist and Constable J. L. Campbell on the stand. McSwain told of conditions as he found them when he went to the place from the sheriff's office after the shooting. Arthur Sanders and the Crists told of hearing the shots. Sanders gave an insight into the actions of Paul Aronian, who was called for by Bederosian while the fight was going on. The claim of the defense is that the approach of Aronian further self defense in that Taylor expected Bederosian to have reinforcements in the fight.

Sanders saw Aronian run toward the shooting. He appeared to be afraid to proceed and they went on again arriving at the scene of the murder after Bederosian was down.

Paul Aronian told his story and kept to the facts as testified to by other witnesses in the trial. He was called for and he ran toward the struggling pair. When Bederosian fell Taylor ran by Aronian. Taylor told Aronian not to attempt to molest him or he (Taylor) would kill him.

Constable Campbell told of receiving the pistol from Chris Tremper.

Record in Missouri. As soon as the prosecution finished its case, the defense began its deposition taken in Montgomery county, Missouri. The depositions concerned the good character of the accused man. There were depositions from judges, medical men, business men and farmers, everyone of whom declared that in his home town Taylor was known as a peaceable man of good character.

Made Good Witness. The first man placed on the stand for the defense was Chris W. Tremper to whom Taylor surrendered himself and his pistol immediately after he had shot Bederosian. Tremper made a very good witness. He was quick and his answers thoroughly comprehensive. Moreover the things he had to tell were of importance.

SALARY IS VETOED

PLUMBING INSPECTOR WILL GET $100 A MONTH.

Board of Health Requested to Remove George Ellithorpe If He Doesn't Resign.

The result of the sidestepping of the city government upon the question of the pay and duties of the plumbing inspector and ex-officio sanitary inspector will be either the Plumbing Inspector Ellithorpe will resign or will be dropped from the list of city officials. Which result will occur will probably depend upon who is quickest.

The charter provides for a plumbing inspector and ex-officio sanitary inspector. When the present Board of Health went into office, through a misapprehension, it considered the two offices separate, electing R. N. Casick to the one and Arthur Machen to the other. As the City Trustees had not fixed any salaries for these positions, they received pay from the city treasury on account. While the Board of Health names these officials, the fact that the trustees fix all salaries gives them a practical control.

After the death of Mr. Casick, the health board elected George Ellithorpe as plumbing inspector, he taking his place on the list of city officials on account for that month, that being the pay of the plumbing inspector under the former administration.

Late in August, the trustees took up the matter of salaries. Finding that the charter provides for but one office, they determined that the sanitary inspector should be regarded as a deputy under the plumbing inspector. They further agreed that the salary for both positions should be $125 a month, and stopped the pay of Mr. Machen, thus virtually removing him from office. Later at the same meeting the action regarding Machen was laid over until the Board of Health could be consulted, as a matter of courtesy.

Now the Board of Health has been very much pleased with the work of both its appointees and members protested to the mayor and the trustees regarding the intended removal of Machen. They said the city requires a sanitary inspector for nearly all the year.

At the meeting of the trustees last Monday, the ordinance fixing the plumbing man's salary at $125, and providing for an assistant—whenever the board should see fit, at $75, was passed at second reading. By the time of the meeting of the Board of Health last night, the effect of the ordinance had been nullified. It was decided informally that the interests of the city require that Mr. Machen should be kept on all the year. As this would relieve Ellithorpe of any responsibility for the sanitary work, the board, finding that it could not immediately reduce his salary to the old figure of $100 a month, directed the city attorney to draw up a new ordinance to that effect.

The trustees had passed a resolution last Monday to the effect that the salaries they had fixed should apply to the back months that the officials had been drawing, merely "on account." Ellithorpe had already drawn $125 for August. Yesterday in considering the matter, the mayor concluded that the purpose of the trustees would be best and easiest accomplished by a veto of the ordinance passed last Monday. He accordingly vetoed the following:

"To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the city of Fresno: "Gentlemen—I feel compelled to veto this ordinance because it reduces $100 per month ample compensation for a plumbing inspector. Four dollars a day is the prevailing wages for a master plumber, such a person filling the requirements of this office. I would recommend an ordinance being passed allowing the plumbing inspector and ex-officio sanitary inspector a salary of $175 per month, $75 of which shall be paid to a deputy."

W. PARKER LYON, Mayor.

Plumbing Inspector Ellithorpe was not pleased with the action of the board in raising his salary and then reducing it again. He protested to the mayor stating that he thought that he was not being treated right. Mr. Lyon later sent word to Dr. Long, president of the board of health, that he did not like the plumbing inspector's attitude. He thought that his usefulness as an employee of the city would cease if he were dissatisfied. The mayor said that he wished the Board of Health to request the plumbing inspector's resignation, and Dr. Long said he would present the matter to the board.

Mayor Lyon stated last evening that his action in vetoing the ordinance was taken in no sense as a discourtesy, but was in his opinion the easiest method of carrying out the wishes of the board. It would take some time to pass a new ordinance, and in the meantime Ellithorpe's salary at the increased figure would be going on. The veto negates the original ordinance and with it the salary. The mayor instructed the city clerk to hold out of Ellithorpe the September salary the $25 overpaid on the month of August.

If the recommendation of the mayor is carried out, the salary of the plumbing inspector will be $175 straight, the understanding with that official to be that $75 will go to his assistant, who is to perform such separate duties as the board of health may require.

OLICE COURT CASES. Negro Fined $40 for Resisting Officer Stevens. Henderson Maxwell, a negro, appeared before Judge Briggs yesterday on a charge of resisting an officer, which was afterwards changed to "disturbing the peace." He pleaded guilty and was fined $40. The commitment was withheld as he promised to pay the fine today.

Maxwell resides in Sanger, is a hard-working man, and the support of his mother. He came to Fresno a few days ago and indulged too freely in liquor. Officer Stevens offered some advice at which Maxwell became enraged and struck the officer. A fight ensued, and ended in a football fight, in which Stevens, being the heavier man, soon outlasted the negro and handcuffed him. He was taken to jail and a charge of resisting an officer placed against him. Several business men of Sanger came in to help him out of the scrape.

Mrs. Kate Hughes, who was arrested Monday for vagrancy, was sentenced to 100 days in the county jail yesterday by Judge Briggs. She was charged by the way with being the landlady of a Comptrol lodging house, as originally reported.

I desire to say to my many friends and business men that I have sold my insurance business and I am now connected therewith to the well known firm of J. M. Clifton & Co. of 1152 J Street, this city, and I most heartily recommend that firm to my friends as one of ability and repute and that the same generous and friendly support be given them that it has been my pleasure to receive.

Thinking you sincerely for many and continuous years and begging to say that I shall be glad to be of service to you in any way possible. My office was at 2032 Mariposa street where I am engaged in other business.

JACOB CLARK.

The trustees had passed a resolution last Monday to the effect that the salaries they had fixed should apply to the back months that the officials had been drawing, merely "on account." Ellithorpe had already drawn $125 for August. Yesterday in considering the matter, the mayor concluded that the purpose of the trustees would be best and easiest accomplished by a veto of the ordinance passed last Monday. He accordingly vetoed the following:

"To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the city of Fresno: "Gentlemen—I feel compelled to veto this ordinance because it reduces $100 per month ample compensation for a plumbing inspector. Four dollars a day is the prevailing wages for a master plumber, such a person filling the requirements of this office. I would recommend an ordinance being passed allowing the plumbing inspector and ex-officio sanitary inspector a salary of $175 per month, $75 of which shall be paid to a deputy."

W. PARKER LYON, Mayor.

Plumbing Inspector Ellithorpe was not pleased with the action of the board in raising his salary and then reducing it again. He protested to the mayor stating that he thought that he was not being treated right. Mr. Lyon later sent word to Dr. Long, president of the board of health, that he did not like the plumbing inspector's attitude. He thought that his usefulness as an employee of the city would cease if he were dissatisfied. The mayor said that he wished the Board of Health to request the plumbing inspector's resignation, and Dr. Long said he would present the matter to the board.

Mayor Lyon stated last evening that his action in vetoing the ordinance was taken in no sense as a discourtesy, but was in his opinion the easiest method of carrying out the wishes of the board. It would take some time to pass a new ordinance, and in the meantime Ellithorpe's salary at the increased figure would be going on. The veto negates the original ordinance and with it the salary. The mayor instructed the city clerk to hold out of Ellithorpe the September salary the $25 overpaid on the month of August.

If the recommendation of the mayor is carried out, the salary of the plumbing inspector will be $175 straight, the understanding with that official to be that $75 will go to his assistant, who is to perform such separate duties as the board of health may require.

OLICE COURT CASES. Negro Fined $40 for Resisting Officer Stevens. Henderson Maxwell, a negro, appeared before Judge Briggs yesterday on a charge of resisting an officer, which was afterwards changed to "disturbing the peace." He pleaded guilty and was fined $40. The commitment was withheld as he promised to pay the fine today.

Maxwell resides in Sanger, is a hard-working man, and the support of his mother. He came to Fresno a few days ago and indulged too freely in liquor. Officer Stevens offered some advice at which Maxwell became enraged and struck the officer. A fight ensued, and ended in a football fight, in which Stevens, being the heavier man, soon outlasted the negro and handcuffed him. He was taken to jail and a charge of resisting an officer placed against him. Several business men of Sanger came in to help him out of the scrape.

Mrs. Kate Hughes, who was arrested Monday for vagrancy, was sentenced to 100 days in the county jail yesterday by Judge Briggs. She was charged by the way with being the landlady of a Comptrol lodging house, as originally reported.

I desire to say to my many friends and business men that I have sold my insurance business and I am now connected therewith to the well known firm of J. M. Clifton & Co. of 1152 J Street, this city, and I most heartily recommend that firm to my friends as one of ability and repute and that the same generous and friendly support be given them that it has been my pleasure to receive.

Thinking you sincerely for many and continuous years and begging to say that I shall be glad to be of service to you in any way possible. My office was at 2032 Mariposa street where I am engaged in other business.

INDECENT POSTALS

BATHING GIRL AND RED DEVIL BOTH BARRED. Postoffice Department Consigns Them to Dead Letter Office—A Pretty Custom Vulgarized.

Uncle Sam won't carry any more girls in bathing suits. The sprightly dripping darlings, with radiant bosoms and Hosiery, these are dead ones, hereafter with Uncle Sam. They're all right on the beach, but done in colors on the back of a bit of pasteboard, they're—well, Uncle Sam doesn't mince words, he says they're positively indecent. May be Uncle Sam is getting old, or maybe he's just been to camp meeting, but in the language of the section foreman, "Their orders."

But Uncle Sam doesn't stop there. He's not only after the bathing girl, but he's after the devil. He makes no invidious distinction—the girl with radiant hosiery and the red devil are both to be assigned to the dead letter office, to the hell box, as they say in newspaper offices.

The fact is the postoffice department is going after the souvenir postal card fad. Orders have been issued to stop all such cards which are offensive to decency and good taste. There are plenty of these cards which are not generally regarded as indecent, and are no worse than many of the pictures in illustrated weeklies, but which are entirely too "skittish" to suit the post-office department. Hereafter pictures of girls in bathing suits will not reach the addresser, nor will pictures of red devils, accompanied by the legend, "I'm having a time."

"The amount of such souvenir stuff coming daily to the dead letter office," said James Rankin Young, the chief of the dead letter office in a recent interview, "would amaze any one on the outside. We have three men who do nothing but handle these postal cards."

The worst come from abroad chiefly from France. The German souvenir cards are for the most part inoffensive, although some of them are very broad in their humor. It is only of late that the American cards have approached the indecent stage.

The souvenir card is a pretty one if confined to reasonable bounds, but, as we see, it is a dangerous business. Postmaster Short, when asked about the postal card fad, yesterday said the sending of such cards had attained enormous proportions within the last year. "As yet," said Mr. Short, "we have received no orders to hold up the bathing girl, and of course, I wouldn't think of doing it without orders. But really, the bathing girl is not so bad; some of those postal cards—wait until I open the door—some of them are—say, is this for publication? Well, you can't quote me—no, sir. If I'd try to describe some of those cards, I'd have to go rummaging around in a dictionary for a word that sounds better than anything I ever heard in Missouri. Of course, I don't see many of them. George Turner handles them, but he only takes the questionable ones that are referred to me."

"But seriously," continued the postmaster, "it's a shame to so debauch the public taste and permit indecency to run in a pretty custom. The souvenir postal card was very popular in California, with the Yosemite Valley, the Big Trees, the old Mission and the like. Then the funny man took it up, illustrated old jokes and thus giving them a new lease of life. Now it has largely degenerated to raw vulgarity."

The worst of the postals come from Europe, and singularly, too, the most indecent are sent by Japanese. Being an imitative people, I suspect, it is natural for them to take up with what it had as well as with what is good."
